Salt: A story of land, sea and table

Salt, a veritable natural treasure, is essential to life.

Derived from elements such as water, sun, wind and rock, it is found all over the planet and reflects a wide diversity of tastes, shapes, colours and harvesting methods.

Earth salt, known as rock salt or fossil salt, comes from seas or salt lakes fossilised during geological upheavals. Sea salt is obtained by evaporation under the combined action of sun and wind. All are naturally rich in minerals and trace elements essential to life.

Maestro invites us to travel the salt trail, discovering original, smoked or flavoured salts. To explore a variety of textures, from ice salt to crunchy salt, as well as creative blends that are easy to incorporate into everyday cooking.

An approach that allows you to better control the amount of salt you consume.

After the success of
Maestro pepper...

Tagine for all burners including induction

The Atlas Tagine provides the ideal cooking environment for tagines and other simmered meat, poultry or vegetable recipes, while preserving the flavours and nutrients of the ingredients.

Its PFA-free ceramic-coated recycled aluminium base is lighter than a traditional tagine, distributing the heat evenly and allowing meat to be seared or vegetables to be browned, then gently simmered. Its ceramic lid perfects the recipe thanks to its unique shape, which circulates the cooking juices and redistributes them over the ingredients, for a tender result that's full of flavour.
